Earn CLE Credits at 2006 Clerk's Office Workshop

The Superior Court Clerk's Office's Experiential Workshop has been renewed with the Washington State Bar Association, offering up to ten (10) Continuing Legal Education (CLE) credits. It will be offered six times in 2006, with up to 20 enrollees in each session. Attorneys and legal staff obtain valuable practical knowledge from this close-up, inside view of the operations of the Clerk and the Court.

Presenters are subject matter experts from the Clerk's Office, the Ex Parte Department, Family Court Services, and Arbitration. Sessions are in the Seattle Courthouse between 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. on the first and second Tuesday of every other month. The first offering takes place on February 7th and 14th, then April, June, August, October and December.

This workshop provides Washington State Bar Association (WSBA) members with up to ten (10) CLE credits. Priority is given to WSBA members, but non-attorney legal staff are encouraged to sign up for the course. Seats in the course not used by attorneys are opened for legal staff about two weeks in advance of the start date. All attendees are given course notebooks, which they soon fill with handouts that include practice tips, up-to-date forms, pointers to important rules and procedures, and more. The course enrollment fee is $100.00.

For further information or to enroll in the workshop, contact CLE Coordinator Roger Winters at (206) 296-7838 or Roger.Winters@metrokc.gov.
